

ASSEMBLY BILL

No. 395

Introduced by Assembly Member Swanson

February 15, 2007

An act to amend Section 278.5 of the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 395, as introduced, Swanson. Child abduction.

Existing law makes it a crime for a person to take, entice away, keep, withhold, or conceal a child and maliciously deprive a lawful custodian of a right to custody, or a person of a right to visitation. Existing law makes these acts punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, a fine not exceeding $1,000, or both that fine and imprisonment, or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or 2 or 3 years, a fine not exceeding $10,000 or both that fine and imprisonment.

This bill would provide greater penalties for a person who commits a violation described above, where the abduction continues for more than one year. In particular, the bill would punish such a violation by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, a fine not exceeding $1,000, or both that fine and imprisonment, or by imprisonment in the state prison for 2, 4, or 6 years, a fine not exceeding $10,000, or both that fine and imprisonment, if specified conditions are satisfied. By increasing the penalties for a crime, this bill would impose a state-mandated local program.

The California Constitution requires the state to reimburse local agencies and school districts for certain costs mandated by the state. Statutory provisions establish procedures for making that reimbursement.

This bill would provide that no reimbursement is required by this act for a specified reason.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: yes.
State-mandated local program: yes.
