

Assembly Bill No. 2810

CHAPTER 358

An act to amend Section 6254 of the Government Code, and to amend Section 293 of, and to amend, renumber, and add Section 236.2 of, the Penal Code, relating to human trafficking.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 2008. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 2008.]

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 2810, Brownley. Human trafficking.

Existing law defines human trafficking as the deprivation of the personal liberty of another person with the intent to effect a specified sex crime or to obtain forced labor or services, as specified.

This bill would require law enforcement to use due diligence to identify all victims of human trafficking, regardless of citizenship, and would provide specific indicators of human trafficking. This bill would also provide that a victim of human trafficking could request, and upon that request require, that his or her name not become a matter of public record, as specified.

Because this bill would impose additional duties on local officials, it would impose a state-mandated local program.

This bill would incorporate additional changes in Section 6254 of the Government Code proposed by SB 1145 and AB 38, to be operative if this bill and one or both of the other bills are chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 2009, and this bill is chaptered last.

This bill would incorporate additional changes in Section 293 of the Penal Code, proposed by AB 3038, to be operative only if AB 3038 and this bill are both chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 2009, and this bill is chaptered last.

The California Constitution requires the state to reimburse local agencies and school districts for certain costs mandated by the state. Statutory provisions establish procedures for making that reimbursement.

This bill would provide that, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that the bill contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement for those costs shall be made pursuant to these statutory provisions.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares:

(a) Human trafficking, also called trafficking in persons, is modern-day slavery that comes in many forms and is relatively ignored despite its effects on the world in pandemic proportions. Men, women, and children are trafficked into forced labor and commercial sexual exploitation.

(b) According to the Trafficking in Persons Report (TIP Report, 2005) published by the United States government's Office to Monitor and Combat Trafficking in Persons, approximately 600,000 to 800,000 persons are trafficked across international borders each year with up to 12.3 million in bondage at any given moment. The report also estimates that about 80 percent of these persons are women and girls, and 50 percent are under 18 years of age.

(c) Those numbers, however, do not include the millions of people that are trafficked within their own national borders. When the numbers of those being trafficked both internationally and intranationally are combined, the number of victims can go up to four million. Somewhere between 17,500 and 50,000 women and children are trafficked into the United States annually, mainly for the purposes of sexual exploitation.

(d) Sex trafficking is highly profitable and makes up to an excess of 12 billion dollars annually.

(e) Trafficking into the United States is an acknowledged problem, but often ignored is the fact that trafficking also occurs domestically within the United States borders. Many girls are trafficked into Mexico from other countries, including the United States, where they are prepared for sex work in the United States. When the victims are considered "ready," they are smuggled across the United States-Mexican border, where they can earn their traffickers tens of thousands of dollars per week.

(f) One victim interviewed by Landesman in the New York Times (2004) said she was born in the United States and sold to a trafficker when she was four years old. She was transported to different locations all over the United States and back and forth across the United States-Mexican border. Her customers included businessmen, police, and even a child psychologist.

(g) Experiences like those make it even more difficult for victims to seek or find help; when a person is being exploited by those who are supposed to help him or her, there is no one to whom he or she can turn for safety.

(h) State and local governments must become actively involved in combating trafficking. At this time, many perpetrators get off with no or minimal penalties, which are less harsh than those inflicted on drug offenders.

(i) Law enforcement personnel, social workers, and legal personnel must be trained to understand trafficking in persons, recognize victim profiles, and appreciate the special circumstances and needs of victims. If the people in the community are trained to recognize instances of trafficking and are better equipped to rescue victims and prosecute traffickers, human trafficking could be slowly reduced because each trafficker prosecuted could help save thousands of future victims.

SEC. 2. Section 6254 of the Government Code is amended to read:

6254. Except as provided in Sections 6254.7 and 6254.13, nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require disclosure of records that are any of the following:

However, state and local law enforcement agencies shall disclose the names and addresses of persons involved in, or witnesses other than confidential informants to, the incident, the description of any property involved, the date, time, and location of the incident, all diagrams, statements of the parties involved in the incident, the statements of all witnesses, other than confidential informants, to the victims of an incident, or an authorized representative thereof, an insurance carrier against which a claim has been or might be made, and any person suffering bodily injury or property damage or loss, as the result of the incident caused by arson, burglary, fire, explosion, larceny, robbery, carjacking, vandalism, vehicle theft, or a crime as defined by subdivision (b) of Section 13951, unless the disclosure would endanger the safety of a witness or other person involved in the investigation, or unless disclosure would endanger the successful completion of the investigation or a related investigation. However, nothing in this division shall require the disclosure of that portion of those investigative files that reflects the analysis or conclusions of the investigating officer.

Customer lists provided to a state or local police agency by an alarm or security company at the request of the agency shall be construed to be records subject to this subdivision.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this subdivision, state and local law enforcement agencies shall make public the following information, except to the extent that disclosure of a particular item of information would endanger the safety of a person involved in an investigation or would endanger the successful completion of the investigation or a related investigation:

(2) Subject to the restrictions imposed by Section 841.5 of the Penal Code, the time, substance, and location of all complaints or requests for assistance received by the agency and the time and nature of the response thereto, including, to the extent the information regarding crimes alleged or committed or any other incident investigated is recorded, the time, date, and location of occurrence, the time and date of the report, the name and age of the victim, the factual circumstances surrounding the crime or incident, and a general description of any injuries, property, or weapons involved. When a person is the victim of more than one crime, information disclosing that the person is a victim of a crime defined in any of the sections of the Penal Code set forth in this subdivision may be deleted at the request of the victim, or the victim's parent or guardian if the victim is a minor, in making the report of the crime, or of any crime or incident accompanying the crime, available to the public in compliance with the requirements of this paragraph.

(3) Subject to the restrictions of Section 841.5 of the Penal Code and this subdivision, the current address of every individual arrested by the agency and the current address of the victim of a crime, where the requester declares under penalty of perjury that the request is made for a scholarly, journalistic, political, or governmental purpose, or that the request is made for investigation purposes by a licensed private investigator as described in Chapter 11.3 (commencing with Section 7512) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code. However, the address of the victim of any crime

Address information obtained pursuant to this paragraph may not be used directly or indirectly, or furnished to another, to sell a product or service to any individual or group of individuals, and the requester shall execute a declaration to that effect under penalty of perjury. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to prohibit or limit a scholarly, journalistic, political, or government use of address information obtained pursuant to this paragraph.

However, the law of eminent domain shall not be affected by this provision.

(i) Information required from any taxpayer in connection with the collection of local taxes that is received in confidence and the disclosure of the information to other persons would result in unfair competitive disadvantage to the person supplying the information.

The exemption in this subdivision shall not apply to records of fines imposed on the borrowers.
