An act to amend Section 1799.106 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to emergency medical services.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SB 1365, as amended, Negrete McLeod. Emergency medical services: immunity.

Existing law limits the civil liability of a licensed nurse who in good faith renders emergency care at the scene of an emergency which occurs outside both the place and the course of that person's employment, as specified.

Existing law also limits the civil liability of firefighters, police officers or other law enforcement officers, and emergency medical technicians who render emergency medical services at the scene of an emergency, as specified.

This bill would extend the above-described liability limit applicable to firefighters, police officers or other law enforcement officers, and emergency medical technicians to emergency medical services rendered during an emergency air or ground ambulance transport, and emergency medical services rendered by a registered nurse, as defined, at the scene of an emergency or during an emergency air or ground ambulance transport.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: no.
State-mandated local program: no.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

1 SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares both of the
2 following:

3 (a) Since the original enactment of Section 1799.106 of the 4 Health and Safety Code, registered nurses have become more
5 directly involved in the provision of emergency medical services,
6 as crew members in both air and ground ambulances.

7 (b) Registered nurses should be encouraged to provide
8 emergency medical services in air and ground ambulances in the 9 same way as firefighters, law enforcement, and EMT-Is and 10 EMT-Ps.

11 SEC. 2. Section 1799.106 of the Health and Safety Code is 12 amended to read:

13 1799.106. (a) In addition to the provisions of Section 1799.104
14 of this code, Section 2727.5 of the Business and Professions Code, 15 and Section 1714.2 of the Civil Code, and in order to encourage
16 the provision of emergency medical services by firefighters, police
17 officers or other law enforcement officers, EMT-I, EMT-II,
18 EMT-P, or registered nurses, a firefighter, police officer or other
19 law enforcement officer, EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or registered
20 nurse who renders emergency medical services at the scene of an
21 emergency or during an emergency air or ground ambulance
22 transport shall only be liable in civil damages for acts or omissions
23 performed in a grossly negligent manner or acts or omissions not
24 performed in good faith. A public agency employing such a
25 firefighter, police officer or other law enforcement officer, EMT-I,
26 EMT-II, EMT-P, or registered nurse shall not be liable for civil 27 damages if the firefighter, police officer or other law enforcement
28 officer, EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or registered nurse is not liable.

29 (b) For purposes of this section, “registered nurse” means a
30 registered nurse trained in emergency medical services and licensed
31 pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 2700) of Division
32 2 of the Business and Professions Code.
