An act to amend Section 17577.2 of the Business and Professions Code, and to amend Sections 116825, 116840, and 116860 of, to add Sections 116831, 116832, and 116836 to, to repeal Section 116830 of, and to repeal and add Sections 116835, 116845, 116850, and 116855 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to water treatment devices.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 119, as amended, Committee on Environmental Safety and Toxic Materials. Water treatment devices.

Existing law prohibits a person from making a claim in connection with the sale or distribution of a water treatment device, as defined, that the device affects the health or safety of drinking water, unless the device has been certified by the State Department of Public Health or another entity, as specified. Existing law requires the department to adopt regulations setting forth the criteria and procedures for certification of water treatment devices that are claimed to affect the health or safety of drinking water.

This bill would revise the criteria and procedure for certification of water treatment devices for which a health or safety claim, as defined, is made and would require each manufacturer that offers for sale in California one of those water treatment devices to submit specified information, including the manufacturer’s contact information, product identification information, the specific contaminant claimed to be removed or reduced by the device, and a product information worksheet, as described, to the department for purposes of inclusion on the department’s Internet Web site. The bill would require the department to publish that information on its Internet Web site by April 1, if it received the information between September 2 and March 1, and by October 1, if it received the information between March 2 and September 1. The bill would also require each manufacturer to pay a reasonable regulatory fee to pay for the cost of publishing information on the department’s Internet Web site and for conducting enforcement actions. The bill would require, after July 1, 2015, the exterior packaging of certain water treatment devices to clearly identify the contaminant that the device has been certified to remove or reduce, as specified. The bill would also require the manufacturer of certain water treatment devices, after July 1, 2015, to include a specified decal with each water treatment device offered for sale in California.

This bill would make related and conforming changes.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: yes.
 State-mandated local program: no.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

- 1 SECTION 1. Section 17577.2 of the Business and Professions
- 2 Code is amended to read:
- 3 17577.2. It is unlawful for any person to do any of the following
- 4 in connection with the sale, lease, rental, offer to sell, lease, rent,
- 5 or other disposition of water treatment devices:
- 6 (a) Make any untrue or misleading oral or written statements
- 7 regarding the presence of one or more contaminants in water, or

1 the performance of water treatment devices, including, but not
2 limited to, the following oral or written statements:

3 (1) (A) Any contaminant exists in the water of any person to 4 whom the statement is directed unless the statement is true, is 5 reasonably based on factual data, and at least a written summary
6 of the factual data, that has been prepared or approved by the source 7 of the factual data, is disclosed to the person to whom the statement 8 is directed before that person executes any contract for the 9 purchase, lease, or rental of a water treatment device.

10 (B) Any contaminant may exist in the water of any person to 11 whom the statement is directed unless the statement is true and is 12 reasonably based on factual data.

13 (2) A relationship between water quality and acute or chronic
14 illness exists as a scientific certainty unless that statement is true.

15 (3) The public water system, utility, or treatment plant that 16 supplies water to the person to whom the statement is directed
17 does not test, treat, or remove particular substances from water
18 treated by it unless the statement is true.

19 (4) A water treatment device removes particular contaminants
20 or other substances from water unless the statement is true, is 21 reasonably based on factual data in existence at the time the 22 statement is made, and the requirements of subparagraphs (A)
23 through (C) are satisfied.

24 (A) If the particular contaminants or other substances mentioned 25 in the statement described in paragraph (4) are not necessarily in 26 the water of the person to whom the statement is made, the 27 following disclosure or its equivalent must be clearly and 28 conspicuously made: “The contaminants or other substances
29 removed or reduced by this water treatment device are not 30 necessarily in your water.”

31 (B) If the statement described in paragraph (4) is oral, the 32 disclosure described in subparagraph (A) shall be made orally and 33 shall immediately follow the statement. If the statement is in 34 writing, the disclosure shall be in writing and shall be placed 35 immediately next to the written statement.

36 (C) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), no statement about the 37 ability of a water treatment device to remove particular 38 contaminants or other substances shall be used to imply falsely 39 that any of those contaminants or other substances are present in 40 the water of the person to whom the statement is made.

1 (5) Use news events, reports, or descriptions of water quality
2 problems or health hazards associated with water systems or 3 suppliers different from the systems or suppliers of the intended
4 consumer unless, at the same time, the seller sets forth
5 conspicuously and prominently a statement, if true, that the seller 6 has no information that the intended consumer's water supply has 7 the water quality problems or health hazards referred to in the news
8 events, reports, or descriptions.

9 (6) A water treatment device would provide a health benefit or 10 diminish a health risk unless it would do so.

11 (7) A water treatment device will solve or contribute to the 12 solution of any problem unless the statement is true.

13 (b) Perform precipitation tests of the individual consumer's 14 drinking water without also clearly informing the consumer of the 15 results, scope, and limits of the test. Precipitation tests may only 16 be used to demonstrate the hardness or other nonhealth-related 17 characteristics of the water being tested.

18 (c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), make product performance
19 claims or product benefit claims that the device affects the health 20 or the safety of drinking water, unless the device complies with 21 Article 3 (commencing with Section 116825) of Chapter 5 of Part
22 12 of Division 104 of the Health and Safety Code. This subdivision
23 does not apply to the making of truthful and nonmisleading claims 24 regarding the removal or reduction of contaminants not associated 25 with a health or safety claim pursuant to Article 3 (commencing 26 with Section 116825) of Chapter 5 of Part 12 of Division 104 of 27 the Health and Safety Code.

28 (d) Use pictures, exhibits, graphs, charts, other graphic 29 portrayals, endorsements, or testimonials in any untrue or 30 misleading manner.

31 (e) Fail to disclose clearly and conspicuously, in writing, to the 32 purchaser, lessee, or renter, prior to the time of purchase, lease, or 33 rent, the importance of maintaining the water treatment device
34 according to the manufacturer's instructions, including, if 35 applicable, replacement of screens and filters. In addition, a 36 separate printed gummed label, tag, or other convenient form of 37 reminder of the importance of proper maintenance shall be provided 38 to the purchaser, lessee, or renter.
