An act to amend Section 3600.5 of the Labor Code, relating to workers' compensation.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 1309, as amended, Perea. Workers' compensation: professional athletes.

Existing workers' compensation law requires employers to secure the payment of workers' compensation, including medical treatment, for injuries incurred by their employees that arise out of, or in the course of, employment.

Existing law provides that an injury may be either "specific," occurring as the result of one incident or exposure that causes disability or need for medical treatment, or “cumulative,” occurring as repetitive mentally or physically traumatic activities extending over a period of time, the combined effect of which causes any disability or need for medical treatment.

Existing law provides that an employee who has been hired outside of this state and his or her employer are exempt from these provisions while the employee is temporarily within this state doing work for his or her employer if the employer has furnished workers’ compensation insurance coverage under the workers’ compensation insurance or similar laws of a state other than California, as specified.

This bill would exempt an employee hired outside of this state and his or her employer from the occupational disease and cumulative injury provisions of this state’s workers’ compensation laws if (1) the employee is a professional athlete, defined, for purposes of these provisions, to include an athlete who is employed at the minor or major league level in the sport of baseball, basketball, football, ice hockey, or soccer, (2) that professional athlete is temporarily within this state doing work for his or her employer, and (3) the employer has furnished workers’ compensation insurance under the laws of the state other than California that covers the professional athlete’s employment while in this state, except as specified. This bill would deem a professional athlete to be temporarily within the state doing work for his or her employer if, during the 365 consecutive days immediately preceding the professional athlete’s last day of work for the employer within the state, the professional athlete performs less than 20% of his or her duty days, as defined, in the state. ~~The exemption would not apply to~~ bill would also exempt a professional athlete and his or her employer if from the occupational disease or cumulative injury provisions of this state’s workers’ compensation laws when all of the professional athlete’s employers in his or her last year of work as a professional athlete are exempt from these provisions unless the professional athlete has, over the course of his or her professional athletic career, (1) worked for 2 or more seasons for a California-based team or teams, as defined, or worked 20% or more of his or her duty days in California or for a California-based team, and, over the course of his or her professional career, (2) worked for fewer than 7 seasons for any team other than a California-based team. The bill would also state that it is the intent of the Legislature that the decision of the Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board in Wesley Carroll v. Cincinnati Bengals, et al. (2013) 78 Cal.Comp.Cases ____ (ADJ2295331) (WCAB En Banc) be limited to professional athletes, and would include other specified statements of legislative intent.

The bill would provide that these changes apply to all pending claims for benefits filed on or after September 15, 2013, as specified.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: no.
State-mandated local program: no.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Section 3600.5 of the Labor Code is amended to 2 read:

3 3600.5. (a) If an employee who has been hired or is regularly
4 working in the state receives personal injury by accident arising 5 out of and in the course of employment outside of this state, he or 6 she, or his or her dependents, in the case of his or her death, shall 7 be entitled to compensation according to the law of this state.

8 (b) (1) An employee who has been hired outside of this state 9 and his or her employer shall be exempted from the provisions of 10 this division while the employee is temporarily within this state
11 doing work for his or her employer if the employer has furnished
12 workers' compensation insurance coverage under the workers' 13 compensation insurance or similar laws of a state other than 14 California, so as to cover the employee's work while in this state
15 if both of the following apply:

16 (A) The extraterritorial provisions of this division are recognized
17 in the other state.

18 (B) The employers and employees who are covered in this state
19 are likewise exempted from the application of the workers'
20 compensation insurance or similar laws of the other state.

21 (2) In any case in which paragraph (1) is satisfied, the benefits
22 under the workers' compensation insurance or similar laws of the 23 other state, and other remedies under those laws, shall be the 24 exclusive remedy against the employer for any injury, whether 25 resulting in death or not, received by the employee while working 26 for the employer in this state.

27 (c) (1) With respect to an occupational disease or cumulative
28 injury, a professional athlete who has been hired outside of this 29 state and his or her employer shall be exempted from the provisions 30 of this division while the professional athlete is temporarily within

1 this state doing work for his or her employer if both of the 2 following are satisfied:

3 (A) The employer has furnished workers' compensation
4 insurance coverage or its equivalent under the laws of a state other 5 than California.

6 (B) The employer's workers' compensation insurance or its 7 equivalent covers the professional athlete's work while in this 8 state.

9 (2) In any case in which paragraph (1) is satisfied, the benefits
10 under the workers' compensation insurance or similar laws of the 11 other state, and other remedies under those laws, shall be the 12 exclusive remedy against the employer for any occupational disease
13 or cumulative injury, whether resulting in death or not, received 14 by the employee while working for the employer in this state.

15 (3) A professional athlete shall be deemed, for purposes of this 16 subdivision, to be temporarily within this state doing work for his 17 or her employer if, during the 365 consecutive days immediately 18 preceding the professional athlete's last day of work for the 19 employer within the state, the professional athlete performs less 20 than 20 percent of his or her duty days in California during that 21 365-day period in California.

22 (d) (1) With respect to an occupational disease or cumulative 23 injury, a professional athlete and his or her employer shall be 24 exempt from this division when all of the professional athlete's
25 employers in his or her last year of work as a professional athlete 26 are exempt from this division pursuant to subdivision (c) or any 27 other law, unless both of the following conditions are satisfied:

29 professional athletic career, worked for two or more seasons for 30 a California-based team or teams, or the professional athlete has, 31 over the course of his or her professional athletic career, worked 32 20 percent or more of his or her duty days either in California or 33 for a California-based team. The percentage of a professional 34 athletic career worked either within California or for a 35 California-based team shall be determined solely by taking the 36 number of duty days the professional athlete worked for a 37 California-based team or teams, plus the number of duty days the 38 professional athlete worked as a professional athlete in California
39 for any team other than a California-based team, and dividing that

1 number by the total number of duty days the professional athlete
2 was employed anywhere as a professional athlete.

3 (B) The professional athlete has, over the course of his or her
4 professional athletic career, worked for fewer than seven seasons
5 for any team or teams other than a California-based team or teams
6 as defined in this section.

7 (2) When subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) are both 8 satisfied, liability for the professional athlete's occupational disease 9 or cumulative injury shall be determined in accordance with 10 Section 5500.5.

11 (e) An employer of professional athletes, other than a 12 California-based team, shall be exempt from Article 4
13 (commencing with Section 3550) of Chapter 2, and subdivisions
14 (a) to (c), inclusive, of Section 5401.

15 (f) For purposes of this section, a certificate from the duly 16 authorized officer of the appeals board or similar department of 17 another state certifying that the employer of the other state is 18 insured in that state and has provided extraterritorial coverage

21 compensation insurance.
