CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE—2013–14 REGULAR SESSION

ASSEMBLY BILL

No. 1319

Introduced by Assembly Member Eggman

February 22, 2013

An act to add Section 10422.5 to, and to repeal and add Sections 10405 and 10422 of, the Food and Agricultural Code, and to amend Section 75121 of the Public Resources Code, relating to ~~diseased animals~~ agriculture.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

Existing

(1) Existing law provides for the regulation of animals and pests for the prevention and control of disease. Existing law requires that any bovine animal in a brucellosis control area that reacts positively to a test for brucellosis be immediately identified pursuant to the regulations of the Secretary of Food and Agriculture and requires that the animal be slaughtered within 30 days in accordance with the regulations of the secretary. Existing law also authorizes the secretary to identify nonreacting animals in the same herd and to require the slaughter of those animals if certain requirements are satisfied.

Existing law requires that if an animal in a brucellosis control area is slaughtered pursuant to these provisions, or under regulations of the secretary which are made pursuant to these provisions, the owner shall receive compensation, as specified. Existing law also provides indemnity, as provided, to the owner of a nonreacting animal that is slaughtered.

This bill would revise and recast these provisions to delete any compensation from the state and would provide that if a nonreacting animal is slaughtered pursuant to these provisions the owner would receive the same compensation as the owner of an animal that tested positive for brucellosis. The bill would require that the value of a nonreacting animal that is slaughtered be determined by appraisalment by a representative of the Department of Food and Agriculture, or a representative of the Agricultural Research Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, and by the owner or his or her agent. The bill would also require that if these persons do not agree on the valuation of the animal, the animal be appraised by the chief appraiser of the Department of Food and Agriculture or his or her representative and ~~that~~ that determination is final.

(2) Existing law establishes the Strategic Growth Council and requires it, among other things, to provide, fund, and distribute data and information to local governments and regional agencies that will assist in developing and planning sustainable communities. Under existing law, the Strategic Growth Council consists of the Director of State Planning and Research, the Secretary of the Resources Agency, the Secretary for Environmental Protection, the Secretary of Business, Transportation and Housing, the Secretary of California Health and Human Services, and one public member appointed by the Governor.

This bill would add the Secretary of Food and Agriculture as a member of the Strategic Growth Council.
