CHAPTER 700

An act to amend, repeal, and add Section 13960 of the Government Code, relating to crime victims, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1998. Filed

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 1803, Lempert. Crime victims: restitution.

Under existing law, crime victims, as defined, may obtain restitution for injury sustained as a direct result of a crime. Injury is defined for purposes of these provisions as including emotional injury if that injury is incurred by a victim who also sustains physical injury or threat of physical injury. Under this law, a victim of specified crimes, who sustains emotional injury, is presumed to have sustained physical injury. Reimbursement under these provisions is made from the Restitution Fund, which is continuously appropriated to the State Board of Control for paying restitution to victims of crimes.

This bill would apply this presumption additionally to a child who is a victim of a violation of the crime of deprivation of lawful child custody. The bill also would provide that this presumption may be applied by the board to a child who has witnessed a crime of domestic violence.

By enlarging the class of persons eligible for restitution that is payable from a continuously appropriated fund, this bill would make an appropriation.

This bill would incorporate additional changes in Section 13960 of the Government Code proposed by AB 535 and AB 645, to be operative only if this bill and one or both of the other bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1999, and this bill is enacted last.

The provisions enacted by the bill would remain in effect only until January 1, 2003, and as of that date would be repealed, unless a later enacted statute, that is enacted before January 1, 2003, deletes or extends that date.

Appropriation: yes.
