CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE—1999–2000 REGULAR SESSION

ASSEMBLY BILL

No. 154

Introduced by Assembly Member Cunneen
(Principal coauthor: Senator Vasconcellos)

January 15, 1999

An act to amend Section 1424 of the Penal Code, relating to criminal law.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 154, as amended, Cunneen. Criminal law.

Existing law provides for a motion to disqualify a district attorney from performing an authorized duty, and provides that the motion may not be granted unless the evidence shows that a conflict of interest exists that would render it unlikely that the defendant would receive a fair trial.

The bill would revise procedural requirements applicable to the motion. It would require the notice to be made at least 10 court days before the motion is heard. It also would require the motion to set forth grounds for disqualification, and be supported by affidavits. The bill would authorize the district attorney or Attorney General to file affidavits in opposition. ~~It would prohibit an evidentiary hearing unless there are~~ ~~disputed issues of material facts that cannot be resolved through the use of affidavits, and would require the court to review those affidavits and determine whether or not an evidentiary hearing is necessary.~~ It would also provide that if the motion is brought at or before the preliminary hearing, it may not be renewed in the trial court on the basis of facts that were raised or could have been raised at the time of the original motion.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: no. State-mandated local program: no.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:
