

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 45

RESOLUTION CHAPTER 46

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 45—Relative to the 2007 State Scientist Day.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 29, 2007.]

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

ACR 45, Caballero. The 2007 State scientist Day.

This measure would proclaim May 23, 2007, as the 19th Annual State Scientist Day.

WHEREAS, The state employs nearly 3,000 professional scientists working in over 30 state departments in 230 scientific classifications; and

WHEREAS, State scientists hold graduate degrees in virtually every scientific discipline, including biology, nematology, virology, seismology, epidemiology, toxicology, and several others; and

WHEREAS, State scientists are represented by the California Association of Professional Scientists (CAPS) which is dedicated to professionalism, independence, responsible advocacy, and earning recognition for the important work of state scientists; and

WHEREAS, The work of state scientists protects the public from life-threatening diseases, safeguards our wildlife and abundant natural resources, and protects our air and water from toxic waste and pollution; and

WHEREAS, State scientists are required to make critical decisions every day based on rigorous scientific fact-finding and these decisions ultimately impact the lives and property of all Californians; and

WHEREAS, State scientists perform important work in the areas of infectious disease prevention, oil spill prevention and response, the monitoring of drinking water, the protection of crops, brownfield cleanups, chemical and radiological disaster response, and much more; and

WHEREAS, State scientists host an annual State Scientist Day at the State Capitol to increase public awareness and recognition of the significant contributions made by scientists working in state government while entertaining and educating over 2,000 elementary school students with fun, hands-on science exhibits, including digging for hidden artifacts, viewing live fish in a 1,500-gallon tank, and playing Pollution Prevention "Wheel of Fortune" and Coastal Creature "Jeopardy"; and

WHEREAS, State Scientist Day has sparked an interest in science for thousands of California school children, legislators, state employees, and the public who attend the special event; and

WHEREAS, The work of state scientists provides all Californians with hope for clean food, safe homes, clean air and water, and a healthy environment; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, the Senate thereof concurring, That the Legislature of the State of California hereby proclaims Wednesday, May 23, 2007, as the 19th Annual State Scientist Day, and that this day shall be a tribute to the dedication and professionalism of the state scientists who work on behalf of all Californians; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly transmit copies of this resolution to the author for appropriate distribution.