SENATE BILL

No. 1091

Introduced by Senator Hancock
(Coauthors: Senators Alquist and Leno)

February 17, 2010

An act to amend Sections 14011.10 and 14053 of, and to add Section 14011.11 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to Medi-Cal.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SB 1091, as amended, Hancock. Medi-Cal: individuals in county juvenile detention facilities.

Existing law provides for the Medi-Cal program, which is administered by the State Department of Health Care Services, under which qualified low-income individuals receive health care services.

Under existing law, children in juvenile facilities are ineligible to receive Medi-Cal benefits.

This bill would, subject to the receipt of federal financial participation, make individuals awaiting adjudication in county juvenile detention facilities eligible for Medi-Cal benefits if the individual is receiving Medi-Cal benefits at the time he or she is admitted to the detention facility, or the individual is subsequently determined to be eligible for Medi-Cal benefits by the county welfare department, and the county agrees to pay the state's share of Medi-Cal expenditures and the state's administrative costs through an intergovernmental transfer of funds. This bill would provide that these individuals would have their Medi-Cal benefits continued for the first 30 days of the individual's stay in the county juvenile detention facility, or until the date of adjudication, whichever period of time is less.

This bill would require the department to seek all federal approvals or waivers necessary to implement these provisions and to allow for federal financial participation. The bill would provide that the above-described provisions shall be implemented on January 1, 2012, or on the date that all necessary federal approvals or waivers are obtained and federal financial participation is available, whichever is later.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: yes.
State-mandated local program: no.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:
